

DESCRIPTION
&
PRACTICAL
INFORMATION

The DELF and DALF are official qualifications awarded by the French Ministry of Education to certify the competency of candidates from outside France in the French language.

The candidates should be at least 16 years-old.

The DELF and DALF are composed of 6 independent diplomas that correspond to the levels of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages.

At each level all 4 competences are being tested: reading, writing, listening and speaking, with varying degrees of interaction and mediation required depending on the level.

The DELF et le DALF are valid everywhere, they benefit from the recognition enjoyed by all official qualifications awarded by the French Ministry of Education. They are valid for life.

To better know the nature of each examination, you may visit the Internet site of the National Commission of DELF and DALF: www.ciepf.fr

If you are not French and would like your French skills to be recognized for personal or professional purposes, you can take DELF and/or DALF. The DELF and DALF diplomas are independent, so you can take the examination of your choice. You can also sit the examinations for a number of diplomas during the same examination session.

If you are a non-French-speaking French person, you may obtain authorization from the National Commission for DELF and DALF to take the DELF examinations.
